

To Shift Burden

Stratton Plans to Require Local Governments To Increase Tax Levies to Qualify for State Aid

Also Considers Higher Rate for School Districts

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The key to Gov. William G. Stratton's confidence that there will be no sales tax increase this year is a plan to shift 50 million dollars of the public relief burden to local governments, it was learned.

This would mean tax increases at the local, rather than the state, level.

The governor also is considering an increase in the tax rate which school districts must levy to qualify for state aid, and he will reject a School Problems Commission recommendation for doubling state aid to junior colleges, it was also learned.

Stratton said after a meeting with the Budgetary Commission this week that he was "more confident" than ever there would be no sales tax increase this year, despite greatly increased budget requests and growing predictions that a tax increase would be necessary.

Levy 1-Mill Tax

Here, according to Budgetary Commission Chairman Sen. Everett R. Peters (R-St. Joseph), are Stratton's plans for avoiding a tax boost:

1. Local government units which administer general relief such as townships and cities would be required to levy an additional 1 mill tax per $1 of assessed valuation in order to qualify for state public relief money. Local governments are now required to levy only 1 mill to qualify for state money.

2. Local government units would be required to levy a new 1 mill tax to qualify for state public aid money for dependent children. At present local governments do not contribute anything to the aid to dependent children program, and all the money comes from state-federal appropriations.

These two new requirements on local governments, Peters said, would reduce by about 50 million dollars the necessary state appropriation for public aid. The Public Aid Commission is asking a budget of 367 million dollars for the coming two years.

A Bigger Surplus

3. Peters said no change was planned in the school aid formula which guarantees a state-local spending level of $200 per pupil per year. But he said the governor was considering an increase in the tax rate which local school districts must levy to get state aid.

This presumably would allow a substantial cut in the School Problems Commission recommendation for 251 million dollars for school aid, which would be an increase of 50 million dollars over the current budget.

4. Peters said Stratton will reject a recommendation for increasing from $100 to $200 per pupil the state aid to junior colleges. This would save another $2 million or more.

5. The surplus in the general revenue fund for the current budget period will be substantially greater than expected.

6. A change in the inheritance tax law is planned which would net about five million dollars. This would affect principally large estates.

Carrier Mills High School Teacher Receives Scholarship at Harvard

Robert L. Aaron, science instructor in the Carrier Mills Community high school, will attend Harvard University during the 1957-58 school term, on a scholarship sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

The scholarship is a full stipend scholarship of $3,000 in cash plus $300 in cash for each dependent, full tuition, laboratory fees, books and hospitalization. It covers a full year's graduate study toward a Doctor's degree in Science Education.

Robert L. Aaron

The scholarship, one of 600 offered in the United States, was made available by an Act of Congress through Federal Aid to Education legislation to improve teaching in secondary schools, Carl Dillow, CMCHS principal, stated today in discussing the scholarship.

Twelve universities throughout the nation were each awarded fifty of the scholarships and the university officials passed on the applications received.

Mr. Aaron's application was accepted by five of the universities and he selected Harvard. Other institutions of higher learning accepting his application were Ohio State University, University of Michigan, University of Utah and Penn State.

Among the qualifications considered, Mr. Dillow said, were past scholastic achievements, recommendations and possible benefits to the applicant.

Mr. Aaron instructs in biology, chemistry and physics at Carrier Mills Community high school. He is in his first term there, having come to CMCHS from Cisne at the beginning of the present school term.

He has his Bachelor of Science degree from Southern Illinois University and is completing work on his Master's at SIU.

Mr. Aaron, who is married and has two children, is a native of West Frankfort.

Judge Reynolds Continues Court Action to Permit Petition Changes

The action in which the mayor and a commissioner are seeking to remove Don Williams as a commissioner of the city of Harrisburg on the contention he is a resident of outside Harrisburg was continued until March 29 this morning by Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds.

The case was continued to permit Atty. Lloyd H. Melton, counsel for Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darnell, to file an amendment to an already amended petition and to send out notices to the state's attorney and attorney general as well as to Williams, telling of the action and hearing before the court.

Peabody Closing Last Operation In Saline County

The last of the Peabody Coal company mines in Saline county is scheduled to cease operations next month with the abandonment of Peabody No. 43.

Once a big operator in southern Illinois, Peabody will be down to one operating mine after work is stopped at No. 43. The lone operation will be a strip mine, employing approximately 61 people, at Herrin.

Peabody formerly maintained a central operations office in Marion and has operated nine major mines in a three-county area: five in Saline county, two at West Frankfort in Franklin and two in Williamson county.

Following the abandonment of most of these mines, the center of operations shifted to Taylorville.

Peabody is still one of the state's biggest operators, but has all but ceased its operations in this section of Illinois.

Claim Hoodlums Moving Into Fairfield Area

ST. LOUIS—Hoodlums are moving into the area around Fairfield, Ill., the territory of the old Shelton mob, with intentions of restoring wide-open gambling and bootlegging, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch said yesterday.

The Post-Dispatch quoted a staff correspondent at Fairfield as saying operators of Fairfield clubs told him that the gang of hoodlum Frank (Buster) Wortman was planning to move in. They said that Charles (Black Charlie) Harris, a Wortman lieutenant, had approached them recently regarding installation of various payoff gambling devices and whisky—all to be furnished by the Wortman gang.

Wayne county is dry under local option. It has been the policy of state authorities to permit slot machines and gambling in private clubs where members must use cards for admission, on the theory that they are charitable organizations.

The Post-Dispatch said it learned that the Wortman group "bought out the juke box, slot machine and pinball machine business of Earl Walker, Herrin, Ill., distributor of such devices to private clubs" after he quit the business and reportedly moved west following a heart attack.

Wayne county gambling and bootlegging, said the newspaper, formerly were controlled by the Shelton gang. A series of shootings, mostly from ambush, broke up the Shelton clan.

Carl Shelton was shot from ambush near Fairfield on Oct. 23, 1947, on Pond Creek Bottom Road near the Shelton and Harris farms. Harris was identified as having been at the scene at the time of the slaying, but a grand jury failed to return a true bill in his case.

Roy Shelton was blasted to death in an ambush shooting June 7, 1950, while plowing a field on the bottom road. Bernie Shelton was fatally felled by a single shot in an ambush on the outskirts of Peoria on July 26, 1948. "Big Earl" Shelton and his nephew, "Little Earl" Shelton, have been wounded and shot at several times in Wayne county.

School of Practical Nursing Receives $1,000 from Woods Fund

The Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing yesterday received a check for $1,000 from Woods Charitable Fund Inc.

The check was presented to Robert S. Davenport, treasurer of the Saline County Board of School Trustees, by Paul Halberleben, general superintendent of the Sahara Coal Co.

Woods Charitable Fund Inc. is a foundation endowed by Frank H. and Nelle C. Woods of Chicago. The late Mr. Woods for many years was president of the Sahara Coal Co. The check received here was signed by their son, Frank H. Woods, now president of the company.

Mr. Davenport said that a number of other contributions to keep this school alive have been received in the past and listed them as follows:

Alcoa Foundation $700, Harrisburg Woman's club $400, Ozark Mahoning Co. $350, Minerva Oil Co. $350, Retail Clerks Local Union 896 $147, B. P. O. Elks Lodge $100, Harrisburg Dairy $100, Harrisburg Business association $100, Previous nursing school $30, Elizabethtown Lions club $50, Dolcie Cavender $10, Eva Bryan $40, Shirley Oshel $45, Virginia Goodwin $10, Pearl Moore $20, Claudine Funkhouser $6.

The first class of the Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing was started last Oct. 1 with 14 students, under the direction of Co-ordinator Shirley Oshel, R. N. Also teaching the women have been Mrs. Marshall Cothran, home economics instructor at HTHS, who taught nutrition, and seven clinical instructors.

Since they completed 16 weeks in the classroom the students have been engaged in practical instruction at the Harrisburg, Lightner and Rosicla hospitals, which will last for 31 weeks. For their classroom instruction they used two rooms, a classroom and laboratory, in Davenport gym at Harrisburg Township high school.

Mrs. Oshel said that another class of students will be started in the late summer and it is hoped that 20 or more can be taken into the class. She said it is hoped that another hospital will be available for practical training.

$516.9 Million Trimmed from Agencies' Funds

Civil Defense, VA Funds Cut by House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today whacked $516,993,000 off President Eisenhower's requests for funds to operate 18 government agencies, including civil defense and the Veterans Administration.

It ordered a general belt-tightening by public servants, calling for fewer new cars, less travel, stabilized payrolls, reduced office space and fewer frills of new public buildings.

The 9.5 per cent bite out of the $5,923,195,000 requested was in line with the announced determination of the committee and of the House to trim a substantial amount off Mr. Eisenhower's record $71.8 billion budget.

The committee's action followed a budget-cutting move by the administration itself. Federal Housing Chief Albert M. Cole Thursday recommended a $200 million cut in funds for government housing programs.

The House committee made its biggest reduction in funds for the federal Civil Defense Administration. It allowed only $39.3 million of the $130 million requested, a cut of $90.7 million.

No New Cars

As its authority for so doing, the committee, in a report to the House, cited the President's own remarks at a news conference on Feb. 7. Mr. Eisenhower said then that the likelihood of any nation's using atomic weapons in an attack "grows less, I think, every year." He said atomic war would be "just another way of committing suicide."

On veterans compensation and pensions the committee lopped $149.5 million off a request of $2,840,500,000. Overall, the committee

315 Attend Mother-Daughter Social By Girl Scouts

Last evening the dining room of Wesley Center in Harrisburg was filled to capacity with Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Adult Scouts.

Three hundred and fifteen women and girls from Harrisburg and Eldorado attended a box social in celebration of the 45th birthday of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Each year, during Girl Scout Week, mothers and daughters get together for an evening of entertainment.

The girls at this time donate their pennies to the Juliette Low Birth-day fund. This money is used to promote World Friendship between girls all over the world. Last summer a Girl Scout from Germany was able to spend several weeks at the Girl Scout camp on Little Grass as an Exchange Scout as a part of the World Friendship program.

Twenty four dollars was collected from the girls during the evening for the Juliette Low fund.

The entertainment began with the flag ceremony by Mrs. J. P. Robinson's Intermediate Troop 33, followed by a folk dance by Mrs. John Slighton's Troop 11. Mrs. Eugene Morris' Troop 25 demonstrated the candle ceremony. Mrs. Bertis Hermann, Mrs. Glen Muckley, and Mrs. Cannon's troops from Eldorado sang, and Mrs. Lawrence Caluffetti's troop presented a puppet show, "The Three Bears."

Miss Shirley Hutcheson, Council Advisor and member of the National Field staff of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., and Miss Mable Webb, executive director of King Coal Council, were guests of honor.

Mrs. Ronnie Doerge, chairman of special events, with the help of Mrs. L. P. Neff, Mrs. Ray Bradock, Mrs. Gwenn Owen, and Mrs. Phillip Hall of Eldorado, was in charge of affairs and the senior Girl Scouts helped serve coffee and Cokes.

Tornadic Winds Cause Extensive Damage in Central Area of State

By United Press

Cold weather blasted into Illinois today in the wake of tornadic winds that caused extensive damage in central sections of the state.

At least two tornadoes were reported Thursday night, one of them slamming into a farm near Parkville. No one was injured in the twister, but about $2,000 damage was reported to farm buildings.

Ceco and Bartonville are located south of Peoria. In Sterling, near Rockford, the wind tore the roof from a General Expressways garage and toppled the chimney of the firm's terminal building a few feet away.

Weathermen said it will continue windy in most sections of the state today, and a few snow flurries are expected in the north. Highs today are to range from the low 30s upstate to 45 in the south. Tonight's lows are to be in the 20s.

Somewhat warmer weather is expected Saturday.

CLOUDBURST HITS HARRISBURG AREA

A storm struck the Harrisburg area shortly before 6 p. m. yesterday with strong winds blasting rain and hail against town and countryside.

The cloudburst descended with such fury that visibility was cut to a minimum and ditches and gutters filled in a matter of minutes.

Total rainfall for only a short period of time was 60 inch.

There were some reports of minor damage resulting from the storm.

night demolished a 280-foot wall, part of a new $530,000 hangar, at Greater Rockford Airport.

The winds battered the still incomplete maintenance hangar and toppled the entire back concrete block wall.

Two empty fuel tanks moored beside the hangar were ripped loose by the gusts and one 18,000-gallon tank was hurled some 200 feet into a nearby field.

The mercury skidded 31 degrees within five hours, from 65 to 34, at Rockford during the afternoon and night.

At Bartonville, trees, chimneys and small buildings were felled by the high winds. Power was disrupted at Ceco when the roof of the Ceco Steel and Wire Co. was blown into a utility pole. Sections of the shattered roof flew into the side of the adjacent Laidlaw Wire Co., breaking 100 windows.

Ceco and Bartonville are located south of Peoria.

In Sterling, near Rockford, the wind tore the roof from a General Expressways garage and toppled the chimney of the firm's terminal building a few feet away.

Weathermen said it will continue windy in most sections of the state today, and a few snow flurries are expected in the north. Highs today are to range from the low 30s upstate to 45 in the south. Tonight's lows are to be in the 20s.

SIU to Boost Tuition Fees.

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Tuition fees for Illinois students at Southern Illinois University will be increased $16 a quarter next fall, it was announced Thursday.

University trustees took the action on the recommendation of Gov. William Stratton in accordance with a statewide trend in college tuitions.

With the $16 increase, tuition and fees for one year will be $160.50 instead of the present $144.50.

All board members were re-elected at Thursday's meeting. They include John Page Wham of Centralia, chairman; Lindell W. Sturgis of Metropolis, vice chairman, and Melvin Lockard of Mattoon, secretary.

Martin F. Oehmke of East St. Louis, appointed last month by Governor Stratton, attended his first board meeting.

Monkey Business

Artists Committee to Inspect Finger Paints of Chimp for Entry in Exhibit

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A committee of artists will inspect the finger paintings of a chimpanzee next week to determine if they are worthy to hang in an outdoor exhibit at the very gates of the University of California.

The chimpanzee is Betsy, a resident of the Baltimore Zoo and potentially hot property in the art world. She has already sold eight paintings at $50 apiece.

In fact, the Winnipeg, Man., Tribune is reported to have commissioned her to do a work on the theme, "Winter in Winnipeg."

Earlier this week, Nora Hampton, director of the annual Berkeley sidewalk art show at the Sather Gate entrance to the university suggested that Betsy be invited to exhibit.

"Swell," said Mark Mohler, president of the Sather Gate (merchants) Association which sponsors the annual show. "We'll even waive the $1 entry fee."

The "monkey business" received a frosty reception from Berkeley artists. One of them, a bearded young abstractionist named Charles Modecke, said: "I'll be damned if I'll exhibit with any chimpanzee!"

Other artists agreed with him and a furore appeared to be in the making.

However, at a jam-packed meeting at the Berkeley Women's City Club Thursday night, the artists agreed to appoint a committee of six to pass on Betsy's paintings, which will be flown here for a special preview next week.

Union Official Testifies at Senate Hearing

Presents Detailed Denial of Testimony Against Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Coast Teamster boss Frank W. Brewster told the Senate Rackets Committee today that charges linking him with hoodlums are "absolutely fantastic and completely untrue."

Brewster was the climax witness in the committee's sensational three-week investigation of activities by racketeers and Teamster Union officials in Portland, Ore.

He swore in a statement to the committee:

"I have never conspired with anyone at any time or place to engage in any way or control in any manner any racket in the city of Portland or anywhere else. Nor do I know of any official or employee of the Teamsters who has."

Brewster, 60, is chairman of the powerful 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

He faces a contempt of Congress citation for defying another Senate committee that checked into Teamster activities on grounds it lacked jurisdiction.

"Hearsay" and "Rumor"

But he talked today, saying he would not invoke the Fifth Amendment against testimony that might be self-incriminating.

Presenting a detailed denial of testimony against him and his union, Brewster said it "consists mainly of hearsay, rumor and insidious innuendo," derived mostly from "gangsters and gamblers and various other underworld characters."

Brewster charged that Portland racketeer James B. Elkins, the rackets committee's star witness, "is simply not telling the truth. He has either manufactured his fantastic story himself, or someone else has done it for him."

He said he was never closely associated particularly with Seattle gamblers Joseph P. McLaughlin and Thomas E. Maloney. He has been accused by Elkins of sending the two men to Portland to organize gambling and vice following election of Dist. Atty. William M. Langley with Teamster backing.

"Of these three men—Elkins, Maloney and McLaughlin—I have never spoken to any one of them about political activity or racketeering activities in Portland," Brewster said.

Makes Many Denials

He made "categorical statements under oath" that:

—He knows of no conspiracy on the part of the Teamsters or any teamster official to engage in any racket in Portland or elsewhere "in collaboration with any public official or anyone else."

—He knows no conspiracy or effort by the Teamsters to control law enforcement in Portland, the state, or to control any city or state official.

—He never authorized Elkins, Maloney or McLaughlin, directly or indirectly, to represent himself or the Teamsters.

—He never authorized anyone to engage in any racket.

—He knows of no conspiracy or plan on the part of the Teamsters or any of their officials to place anyone on the State Liquor Commission.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Dulles' Firm Backstage Pledges Decided Israel's Withdrawal; Councilman Earl Can't Explain Pinball Switch; Candid Chip Bohlen Is Unique Career Diplomat.

WASHINGTON. — The public doesn't know it, but Israel can cite the 100 per cent support of American diplomats in private talks against the move of Col. Nasser to set up civilian administration in the Gaza Strip.

What the public doesn't know is that the statement by the Israeli foreign minister Mrs. Golda Meir in the UN, setting forth the conditions under which Israel would withdraw from Gaza and Aqaba, was okayed personally and agreed to by John Foster Dulles. It was also read by the French and by various State Department officials. They even made some changes in the statement.

After accepting these changes, Mrs. Meir stated that Israel makes its announcement of withdrawal "on the following assumptions:

"That on its withdrawal the United Nations force will be deployed in Gaza, and that the takeover of Gaza from the military and civilian control of Israel will be exclusively by the United Nations emergency force."

There were other safeguarding "assumptions," all relying on the UN and all approved in advance by the United States.

Immediately after Mrs. Meir's statement, and despite the advance approval, Ambassador Cabot Lodge rose, in an effort to appease the Arabs, to express some reservations. However, Israel thought she had a firm commitment and never would have withdrawn without the solemn word of John Foster Dulles, who reported to represent the United States.

CRUSADING COUNCILMAN

These are the days when witnesses before the Senate Rackets committee are rushing to take lie detector tests. Mr. Stanley Earl, city councilman of Portland, Ore., has not volunteered to take such a test, but some of the testimony of the convicted dope peddler, "Big Jim" Elkins, has seemed so fishy that my associate Jack Anderson called the city councilman in order to learn the truth about his alleged role as a champion of clean government.

Mr. Anderson's cross-examination was not a lie detector test, but the results might help the public decide whether the city councilman is an honest crusader against corruption.

Reached at his hotel in Washington, Councilman Earl admitted he had once been a bouncer for Big Jim Elkins and his brother. But he didn't know anything about having written a letter to the Arizona parole board asking that Elkins be pardoned.

Anderson then read him his letter.

"That letter was never presented before the parole board," the city councilman alibied. "I canceled it."

"How did you cancel it?" The councilman couldn't seem to explain. The letter is on file with the parole board.

"Didn't you at one time make a motion in the Portland city council to license pinball machines?" The councilman started to answer in the negative.

REFRESHED HIS MEMORY

"Remember, your actions as a city councilman are at matter of record," Anderson reminded him. "Wait a minute and I'll look at the record," the councilman replied. Just what kind of record he had in his hotel room in Washington was not explained, but in a minute or two he replied:

"Yes, I spoke out for them." He explained he had introduced two resolutions for pinball machines.

"Why did you once change your mind about pinball machines after you had been for them, and suddenly start denouncing them?" Anderson asked.

The question was prompted by reports that the Teamsters had begun to move in on the pinball machines in a move to squeeze out Earl's friend Big Jim Elkins. Following this, Big Jim disposed of his pinball machines; following which, also, Councilman Earl with sudden righteousness began to attack pinballs as a vicious gambling device.

Asked about this change of mind, the councilman didn't answer. He started giving facetious answers instead.

"Elkins gave me a great big chunk," he said. "I chewed on it and chewed on it until it came out baloney."

Then Earl began challenging Anderson's identity.

"I don't believe you are Jack Anderson," he said.

The councilman's conversation became so ludicrous that Anderson terminated the interview.

Senate Counsel Bob Kennedy was apprised of the above conversation, but one day later Kennedy put Earl on the witness stand as an advocate of clean government in Portland.

UNGRATEFUL REPUBLIC

Chip Bohlen, brilliant long-time ambassador to Moscow, is a career diplomat who doesn't have a penny outside his State Department salary. Unlike politically appointed ambassadors who contribute heavily to the party, and unlike many career diplomats who have private incomes, Bohlen operates strictly on brains.

He has been the chief State Department adviser on Russia for many years, speaks Russian fluently, has been able to call the turn on Russian events with amazing accuracy. He has also been frank—sometimes too frank for his own good. When Secretary of State Dulles has been wrong, he hasn't hesitated to say so. There's been a lot of speculation in the ranks of diplomacy, therefore, as to whether Bohlen would get another ambassadorial job.

This undoubtedly was in the minds of guests at a small Washington dinner party honoring Bohlen when ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson was called upon to toast the homecoming ambassador.

"I hope," said Acheson, concluding his toast, "that the Republic will be grateful."

"The French have said this before, as they have said many things," replied Bohlen, returning the toast, "but when a republic becomes grateful, it ceases to be a republic."

Note—Bohlen is now to become ambassador to the Philippines, which, after a couple more years of service, will permit him to retire on an ambassadorial pension.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

When one flies a great distance, he frequently rises above the thick clouds which completely shut off all view of the earth. The sun may be shining above the clouds, but when the descent begins, the plane enters the fog. Nothing can be seen. The pilot must depend on instruments, on radio beams, and radar control. Finally one lands below the seemingly impenetrable mist.

Jesus carried His congregations above the clouds of human confusion and hardship which seemed to envelop the world of His day. As He approached His landing for His last week on earth, even His friends were lost in the fog. They could not follow the beam that Jesus followed.

We, too, become befogged sometimes in our way through life. However, we can be certain that we shall make our journey safely if we have Jesus for our pilot.

"NO MAN ALONE IS WISE ENOUGH"

One of the most important discoveries of this miracle age of new medicines is the right use of vitamins. Properly taken they are a blessing to mankind.

Be cautious about claims made for their use by untrained door-to-door salesmen and stores that sell them under the name of food supplements. Compare the potency, prices and quality of the vitamins they sell with the reliable brands we pharmacists offer.

Be wise. Ask your physician or pharmacist for the answer to your vitamin questions. We both are dedicated to consider your health more important than quick profits.

Gil Cadilli, Ike Chestnut Meet In TV Bout Tonight
NEW YORK — Featherweights Gil Cadilli and Ike Chestnut, who provided a disputed thriller last October, meet tonight in a return 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.
It will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC.
The wavering betting odds returned to "even money," but either speedy Gil of Los Angeles or aggressive Ike of New York could be favored at ring time.
Cadilli, fifth ranking contender, won a split decision by a single point over unranked Chestnut at Houston, Tex., last Oct. 30. The verdict was warmly debated.
Ike was never stopped during his 23-8-3 career. He is substituting for Isidro Martinez of Panama, who withdrew from the bout because of intestinal influenza.
Cadilli, of Mexican-Italian parentage, seeks his 28th victory in 39 fights and his 10th knockout. He was stopped once, by Jimmy Dunn in his third professional bout, April, 1950.

Tigers Will Collide with Pinckneyville in Top Sectional Cage Battle

By United Press
Collinsville, Elgin, Herrin, Rock Island and Bloom triumphed as expected Thursday night to move into prep basketball sectional finals, but Lincoln turned in a major upset by nosing out Springfield Lanphier in the final seconds.
Sectional finals tonight will match 30 first round winners from Wednesday and Thursday, with the top battle set at Herrin, where the host Tigers will collide with third-ranked Pinckneyville.

Second-ranked Elgin had trouble with De Kalb in the first half at Aurora West and managed only to pull into a 20-20 tie at halftime. But then the Maroons pulled away to notch their 25th straight win, 44-33. Center Charlie Brandt led the winners with 23 points and Dick Anderson potted 21 for De Kalb.

Elgin will meet Aurora West, a team it walloped twice in the regular season, in the final round.
Top-ranked Collinsville trounced Greenville, 94-66, at Vandalia for its 30th straight victory and the right to meet Centralla in the final tonight.

Last Second Victory

Center Terry Bethel poured in 26 points to spark the Collinsville attack, but Greenville's Arlen Parker was high scorer for the night with 32.
At Springfield, Lanphier's Harold Beard put in a lay-up to give Lanphier a 70-69 lead with 15 seconds to go. Then Lincoln's Dave Buchanan took a pass in the corner and turned and shot with one second to go. The ball swished through the net as the gun sounded and Lincoln won, 71-70.

Lanphier's Ivan Jackson was the game's high scorer with 33 points.
Herrin rocked East St. Louis, 53-38, at Herrin to advance to the final against Pinckneyville. Herrin led all the way with center John Tidwell pouring in 20 points. Herrin is one of the two teams in the state with a victory over Pinckneyville this season, having edged the Panthers by 3 points in February.

Pekin staved off a third quarter rally and squeaked out a 56-55 win over Farmington at Macomb. Pekin will meet Peoria Central in the final.

Chicago Heights Bloom walloped Kankakee St. Patrick, 96-63, at Blue Island and will tangle with Pontiac, Rock Island had no trouble at Moline, disposing of Alwood 89-51 as Larry Dunlap and Jim Fowler shared scoring honors with 16 points each. In the other first round game at Moline, Galesburg, paced by Bob Hoffman with 16 points, easily whipped Fulton, 61-47, for the right to meet Rock Island.

Ottawa Displays Power

Evanston stopped Oak Park, 67-60, at Arlington Heights and will meet Barrington in the final.
Mount Vernon gained the right to meet West Frankfort in the West Frankfort sectional by thumping Brookport, 84-62.

Freeport edged Rock Falls, 58-56, at Sterling and will meet Forreston tonight.

Wife Wrecks Hubby's Brand New Auto

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Marcella Tyler, 48, took a friend out in her husband's brand new automobile Thursday to show him "how good I can drive."

She put her foot on the gas pedal instead of the brake pedal and the car shot down a 40-foot bank and crashed into a house.

Mrs. Tyler was hospitalized with a leg injury and cuts and bruises. The friend, William White, 55, escaped injury.

The crash put a bulge in a wall of the home of Louis J. Waldschmidt.

Schull said the February production was 537,855 tons lower than in January, 1957, and 541,456 lower than in February, 1956.

A total of 11,750 miners were employed in Illinois mines during the month, a figure 166 higher than in January, Schull said.

Taxpayers Send Shirts Off Backs To Rep. Cannon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee today had a request for taxpayers:

Don't send him the shirts off your backs. Send them to the administration.

Chairman Clarence Cannon Thursday received 100 shirts from taxpayers in Centralia, Mo. He promptly forwarded them to Budget Director Percival F. Brundage.

"Brundage is the one who makes the budget," the Missouri Democrat told a reporter. "He's the one who should have them."

The shirts were sent by the Centralia Freedom Club to dramatize pleas to reduce federal spending.

"Centralians are still giving the shirts off their backs to convince Congress the cost of the government must be cut," the club president, Gene Ausmus, telegraphed Cannon.

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission will study abandoned oil wells in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky as possible disposal sites for nuclear wastes.

Investigators will arrive here April 5 for the study, the commission said Thursday. Oil producers in the tri-state area already are seeking to determine whether the abandoned wells and dry holes can be used for the radioactive wastes.

C. E. Brehm, president of the Independent Oil Producers and Landowners Assn., in Mount Carmel, said he would call a meeting soon to name a group to aid the commission in its study.

Sent to Prison After Swallowing Keys in Jail

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A man who swallowed a dozen keys while a prisoner in Williamson county jail at Marion was sentenced to from two-to-five years in Menard State Penitentiary today.

William E. Hinkle, 24, Carbondale, pleaded guilty to a forgery charge and waived grand jury action. Circuit Judge Harold Zimmerman imposed sentence.

Hinkle, who once swallowed some razor blades in Odessa, Tex., gulped down the keys Monday night then complained of a stomach ache. X-rays confirmed that he had swallowed the keys.

Authorities said Hinkle's first stop at the prison will be the hospital. A doctor has advised that the keys must be taken out.

Hinkle's x-rays will be sent to prison with him, together with a notice to prison officials not to become alarmed if the keys in his stomach set off an electronic warning system which detects any metal on a person entering the prison.

$516.9 Million Cut From Agencies' Funds

tee chopped VA's budget from $4,889,363,000 to $4,682,705,300, a cut of $206,657,700 or about 4 per cent. Funds for hospital and medical care were not touched.

Budgets for the other 17 agencies were reduced altogether by more than 30 per cent.

The committee said it had denied all requests for new cars. It urged all agencies to rely on motor pools. It noted that official travel had become more popular with a new and higher per diem (12 instead of $9) allowed last year. So it denied requests for a "substantial" increase in travel funds.

The Civil Service Commission, which handles government employment, was trimmed from $22,924,000 to $21,091,000. The committee said this was in line with announced plans to level off government payrolls, this year and next, at 2,390,000 persons.

Many Agencies Cut
The General Services Administration, the government's house-keeping agency, got $127,464,000, a cut of $14,536,000 from the request. The committee ordered less new space leased for government use than was planned and said a vast air conditioning program should be slowed down.

Funds for stockpiling of strategic materials were cut from $130 million to $19 million on the ground government stockpiles will total $8.4 billion by July 1.

Other agencies covered, and cut, by the bill were Federal Communications Commission, Federal Power Commission, Federal Trade Commission, General Accounting Office, Housing and Home Finance Agency, Interstate Commerce Commission for Aeronautics, National Science Foundation, Selective Service, and the National Security Training Commission.

Mrs. B. P. Weaver, Former Resident, Dies in California

Mrs. Dora E. Weaver, 84, widow of Braxton P. Weaver, formerly of Harrisburg, died at her home in Long Beach, Calif., on March 2, following an illness of several months. News of her death came in a letter to The Daily Register from Mrs. Ruth M. Warburton, a niece, residing in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Weaver was born near Cave-in-Rock on Jan. 11, 1873. Her family later moved to Elizabethtown, where she and Mr. Weaver were married in 1892. Shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Weaver moved to Harrisburg, where they resided for many years.

They built the house on West Church street, now owned and occupied by George Lazich, and Mr. Weaver was in charge of the men's wear department of a large store operated by G. G. Mugge, which was located in the present location of Hart's Department store. He was widely known as "Uncle Brock Weaver."

Mrs. Weaver is survived by four nieces, all in California, and a cousin, H. C. Irion of Rosiclare.

Board Urges Rail Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential board set up to investigate a year-old railroad wage dispute today recommended wage increases of 26½ cents an hour over the next three years, plus cost-of-living increases.

The employees involved are mostly road brakemen, yard conductors and brakemen, and yardmasters.

In its report to the President, the board said it hoped that the parties involved—175 Class 1 railroads and about 160,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen—"will not view our recommendations in terms of victory or defeat, but rather as a basic approach to a just result."

The recommendation would provide an increase of 12½ cents an hour retroactive to Nov. 1, 1956; 7 cents Nov. 1, 1957, and 7 cents Nov. 1, 1958.

The board recommended that cost-of-living wage adjustments be made beginning May 1, 1957, and each six months thereafter, on a basis of changes in the consumer price index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. It recommended the adjustments be 1 cent an hour, up or down, for each change of ½ point in the index.

The A. J. Martin Pyramid Block company of Goreville and the Odum Block company, with offices in Marion, have each donated 250 concrete blocks for the basement walls.

Thursday afternoon students of the agriculture class of the Vienna high school dug the footings for the basement.

Cash contributions included one from Milo Brian, former resident of the Vienna area, in Canada. Mr. Brian read about the project to build the home of the Simmons family and sent a contribution by telegraph.

Egypt Renews Its Claim to Gulf of Aqaba

By United Press
Egypt renewed its claim to the Gulf of Aqaba today despite a warning by Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir that Israeli warships would shoot their way through if Egypt tried to reimpose a blockade.

At the same time Egypt began taking over administration of the Gaza Strip from the United Nations Emergency Force in a move that brought anxiety to Western capitals and alerted Israel for trouble.

U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare conferred in Cairo Thursday night with President Gamal Abdel Nasser and informed sources said he was trying to slow Nasser down.

Egypt's semi-official and government-owned Middle East news agency restated Egypt's claims today to the narrow Gulf of Aqaba which Israel hopes to use to bypass the Suez Canal.

"Egypt and Saudi Arabia will strongly oppose attempts which are now being made by Britain, France and Australia to enlist the support of the United States for active measures designed to give the Straits of Tiran at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba an international character," the agency said.

"Egypt will stand firmly on her right to exercise control over her territorial waters."

The newspaper Al Ahram said King Saud had messaged President Eisenhower saying he would do everything in his power to prevent internationalization of the Gulf of Aqaba.

UNEF forces still were stationed at Sharm El Sheikh, evacuated only this week by the Israeli forces which captured it in the swift Sinai campaign. But Egypt was expected to ask the UNEF to leave at any time.

Seaton is in the hospital for "observation and treatment." He is suffering from a recurrent back injury received about 25 years ago while playing football. He suffered his latest attack in February while on an inspection trip to Hawaii.

"The doctors call it 'acute radicular neuritis of the lower right extremity,'" Seaton said. "It is a slipped disc. In my grandfather's day, it was called sciatica. I hurt from the lower part of my back to the end of my right big toe."

He entered the hospital on March 6.

The Baptist Hour executive committee is completing work on the history of the Baptist Hour over WEBQ.

The group, of which Rev. Ernest Ammon is chairman, has searched for records of the beginnings of this unique radio service that has not missed a single morning for more than 25 years.

A booklet will be printed soon and will be offered to the listeners as a gift in return for donations to the Baptist Hour work.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite; robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to STRETCH-IT-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretching bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Carrier Mills P. T. A. Enjoys Carnival

Carrier Mills PTA had great success with a carnival Saturday night, March 9, in the grade school gym. Everyone greatly enjoyed himself and there was a sellout early in the evening in several booths. Many, many parents and friends donated work and articles, as well as food, to make all booths worthwhile.

Bert Miller was master of ceremonies. Larry Edwards, in the absence of Mrs. Rena Brackney, very ably took charge of the music and put on an enjoyable variety show. Mrs. Essie Mottisinger dressed in a very colorful costume and told fortunes. The children hoped and felt sure that she knew what she was talking about for the future. Max Rodocker guessed weights and surely became more able as the evening progressed. Maud McDonald, Bertha Rann, Donna Turner, Mr. Miller, and Jean McSparin sold tickets.

Paul McSparin and Van Parsons ran a movie cartoon which had been donated by WSIL-TV of Harrisburg. Mr. Street and Mr. Culbreth took charge of the basketball pitch and the student council donated 20 school beanies for prizes. Eighth grade room mothers, Frances Prather, Wilma Gullledge, and Hallie Hutson, sold carnival supplies. Seventh grade room mothers, Sarah Coats, Maureen Henshaw, Jean Brewer, Helen Russell, and Mary Pankey, along with Mrs. DeGiacinto, sold refreshments in the lobby. Sixth grade room mothers, Marge Davis, Helen Walker, Mrs. Schofield, Juanita Rodocker, Betty McDonald, and Bonnell Hafford entertained the younger set with a kiddie car ride upon the stage.

Up in the fifth grade room a new experiment was tried in the carnival which worked very well. Mrs. Kihlmire and room mothers, Lorene Dunaway, Mable Sadler, June Ricketts, and Romayne Latham, had a beautifully decorated "Teen-town" which was enjoyed, not only by teenagers but also by some a slight bit younger. The other fifth grade, in charge of Mrs. Raybourn and room mothers, Juanita Campbell, Juanita Schwartz and Vivian Mayhew, had a dart game.

Fourth grade teacher, Mr. Rann, and Bob Whitney and also third grade teachers, Elizabeth Miller and Lillian Butterfield, with room mothers, Edna Field, Clara Ruth Hearn, Norma Figg, had a cake game. Those who assisted in the second grade silent auction were Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. Lambert, Louise Ritchey, Hazel Bramlet, and Carolyn Nuennbern. Mrs. Martin and first grade room mothers, Louise Chase, Irma Beshires, Pearl Field, Elsie King, Ruby Meler, and Clara Bailey, conducted a colorful and exciting fish pond. The kindergarten served lunch in the lunchroom with Mary Parsons, Pansy Black, Mary Sweat, Gladys Pankey, Mary Ellen Kennedy, Betty Kidd, and Nellie Malone.

The PTA would like to thank everyone who participated in any way to help make this carnival a success. This was its outstanding money making activity of the year and since about $300 was cleared, the workers feel it was well worth the effort put into it.

Rural Church Survey By Equality Church

The First Baptist church of Equality is conducting one of the newest features of Southern Baptist work, a Rural Church Survey. It has been arranged by the Home Mission board to find the possibilities and to interest people in church attendance.

This survey is being carried on in the church by Missionary Ernest Ammon and Pastor Clayton Humphrey, and about 15 people have assisted in the survey and tabulation. The church has found over one hundred people who are prospects or are interested in attending the church.

This is the newest church in the Saline association, organized in September 1956. Fifty one are enrolled in Sunday school and there is an attendance of about fifty each Sunday. C. A. Muge is the Sunday school superintendent and Mrs. Humphrey is president of the Missionary Union.

BUFFALO GRASS

By Frank Gruber

THE STORY: Helen Jagger has admitted to her fiancé Chad Morgan, one of the founders of Pawnee City, that she is interested in gaining more than money out of the successful venture. She wants what money can buy—power.

XVI
Morgan was still sitting on the bed five minutes later, when timid knuckles rapped lightly on his door.

"Come in," he said wearily.
The door opened and Cass Simcoe entered tentatively a step or two. She was wearing her Levi's and man's clothing. Morgan exclaimed and came to his feet.

"Is it against the rules for a girl to come into a man's room?" she asked worriedly.

"It is," replied Morgan, "but it's all right. What happened to the dress?"

"I'm going to give it back in a few minutes. We—we're heading back home first thing in the morning."

"Already?"

"Dad sold the cattle today."

"I hope he got a good price."

"Twenty-nine thousand dollars, Mr. Morgan!" cried Cass. "Golly, we're rich. We bought a lot of stuff and we're going to send for more. Dad says he can pay the taxes and get the Yankee carpet-baggers off our necks."

"That's fine, Cass," said Morgan. "We're going to miss you around here."

"Me?" she exclaimed in surprise. "You're going to miss me?"

"Of course."

Her eyes fell from his. "Next time I see you, you'll be married."

"Probably," replied Morgan. Then: "You're coming again?"

"We got 10 times as many steers as we brought. Maybe 30 times. We don't even know how many head we got. We'll be making lots of drives."

He took her small, calloused hand. "Goodbye, Reb."

"Yank," she smiled and turning, stepped out quickly, closing the door behind her.

Pete Mossman rode into town the next morning, accompanied by a sober and subdued towhead, his trail boss. He found Joe Jagger at the hotel.

"Mr. Jagger," he said, "seems my boys got a little liquored up yesterday and busted a window glass or two." He looked at the cowboy with him. "Go ahead, Brog, say your piece."

"We was drunk," offered the cowboy reluctantly.

"That's the understatement of the year," exclaimed Joe Jagger. "I've had more complaining about what you boys did yesterday than for anything that's ever happened in Pawnee City."

"I said we was sorry," snapped Brog. "And I'm only sayin' it 'cause Pete insists on it."

"You're going to pay for the damage, too," growled Pete Mossman. "You figure $20 will cover it?"

Jagger hesitated. "Pillsbury says they drank $62 worth of his whiskey — and broke his mirror for which he paid $93, including freight."

The cattleman frowned. "Sounds pretty steep, Mr. Jagger."

"They also broke about 30, 35 windows around town."

Mossman turned on Brog. "You told me two-three windows."

"That's all I saw," snarled Brog. "You ask me, they're pilin' it on."

"Wait a minute, Brog," interposed Jagger swiftly. "I've pretty well squared things around town. It took a bit of talking, but no one holds a grudge."

"I don't give a hoot if they do."

"Brog," said Mossman, "Mr. Jagger's a reasonable man. He wants us Texans to bring our herds to Pawnee City. He makes money off us."

"All right," said Jagger. "I'll go along with that. I'll even pay half of the damage out of my own pocket. What do you say to $100 for your share of the business?"

"It's a fair price, Mr. Jagger," Mossman said. "The boys had their fun, they can pay for it. Ten dollars apiece ain't too much."

Morgan entered the store of Buffington. He found Buffington at the rear of the store with Harlow Tarbox, the proprietor of The St. Louis Store.

"Quite a thing you did yesterday, Mr. Morgan," said Tarbox. Morgan made a deprecating gesture of dismissal. "I did what had to be done."

"That's what I told the boys," declared Buffington. "We had a sort of get-together last night."

Fesler, the editor and publisher of the new Pawnee City Lance, came into the store. He was carrying a damp sheet of newsprint. "My front page," he said. "I'll be going to press in about an hour."

He started to hand the sheet to Buffington, then diverted it to Morgan.

A mob of Texas cowboys yesterday took over Pawnee City and for a brief period held complete power of life and death over the residents of our city. The drunken men galloped up and down the street, shooting at anyone and anything with an appalling disregard for life and property. That the ruffians were finally subdued and driven from town was solely due to one of the most heroic deeds it has ever been our privilege to witness. Mr. Chad Morgan, one of the founders of Pawnee City...

"Mr. Morgan," said Buffington, "we talked this over last night. We've come to a definite conclusion. Pawnee City needs some law."

"That would require a town government," Morgan said.

"Exactly," exclaimed Fesler. "That's why we asked you and your partner to come here."

Warning on Burning Rubbish Backfires On Marion Fireman

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A common warning of firemen on burning rubbish backfired on Marion fireman Lonnie Dungey.

While on duty Wednesday, Dungey made four runs to fight grass fires.

Then he went home and was burning rubbish. The blaze spread to nearby grass. Dungey had to summon fellow firemen for help.

Dungey ruefully listed the cause of the fire as "careless burning of rubbish."
